a children's therapy resource foundation

Helping children with special needs reach their full potential by providing access to the resources and support they need to improve their overall quality of life.

Elevations: A Children's Therapy Resource Foundation was established by committed medical professionals, families and community members who see too many children with physical and mental challenges who could be helped by therapy – but who have limited or no resources to meet the cost.

WHO WE CAN HELP

Children and Their Families

If your child has been diagnosed with a delay in his or her motor, language, cognitive, and/or social-emotional development, AND your family does not have resources or insurance to cover the cost, there may be help. Elevations: A Children's Therapy Resource Foundation works with therapy providers in the greater Spokane area to identify and qualify children and families for grants that may cover all or part of the cost of a course of therapy and/or therapeutic devices and equipment. Children ages 0-18 who live in the greater Spokane area can qualify for financial resources.

How Does the Process Work?

Families will be screened for need and depletion of any insurance benefits. A recommendation from a participating licensed provider is required. The Elevations Board will review applications and available funds will be dispersed to providers to cover the cost of selected services.

Funds will only be made available for therapy services and equipment, and funds will be channeled through licensed providers. No guarantee is made for future financial resources, either for new or ongoing needs.
